Impressive Service In Memory of Corpl. Donnell T. Townsend

One of the most impressive services, perhaps ever held in Hamlin, was at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, when the American Legion Post of Hamlin conducted memorial services for Corporal Donnell T. Townsend, who lost his life in the Sicily campaign on July 10, 1943.

A crowd of friends from every community around Hamlin, and in Hamlin, packed the house to capacity. The entire program was likely the first of its nature ever held here. The choir was represented by every church, almost, in Hamlin and the various communities about Hamlin. The audience was the most general representative that could be expected.

Legion Chairman W. L. Fletcher, Jr., acted as master of ceremonies, and paid a beautiful tribute to the fallen soldier paratrooper. He introduced the Rev. G. D. Reid of Abilene, who had held a pastorate for about twelve years in Roby, and a minister who had known intimately the Townsend family. His talk was full and complete in every detail, paying a wonderful tribute to the young hero, and all men who have gone out to fight for their country. It seemed that he left out nothing that a real true American minister should have said. Rev. Reid is pastor of a church in Abilene, and four of his good singers came over with him and rendered a very impressive song.

Suitable decorations and flags were present, the soldier's picture, his Purple Heart and the citation, and other things bearing mute testimony to the young man whose body lies in a distant land and now close to where others are paying the supreme sacrifice.

SINGING AT DOVIE

A general singing program will be held at the Dovie church Sunday afternoon. The usual good quartets and special numbers will be there. Come to Dovie Sunday afternoon.

A Deer Dinner Given To The Lions Club

It seems that the Lions Club is furnishing all of the deer hunters from Hamlin this season. And it seemed that the Lions Club had too much deer steak at their luncheon at the Morgan Hotel Tuesday of this week. It seems that the Lions are hooking up some kind of scheme to save points by going out and knocking down pointed bucks.

Any way, Ye Editor owes Lion President Haskell Carter a public expression of thanks for the invitation to eat lunch with his club Tuesday. Yes sir, we enjoyed the fellowship and especially that fine tender deer steak and creamed gravy so excellently prepared by the Morgan Hotel... then there was another feature. Bob Eastus of Stamford, Executive for the Boy Scouts, was present and by cards and appropriate words, showed some of the values of having a Boy Scout organization in a community. He is trying to revive Scouting in Hamlin.

Back to the deer dinner. The Herald told of the fellows from Hamlin going down in the Hill Country on a deer hunt last week. There were five of them and they killed eight deer. Three got two each and two men landed one each. From this bunch some tall tales are told, and as usual, the fellow who talks and laughs the most gets the widest field of advertising... meaning Ted Russell. Ted tells it as a fact that he was out looking for a shot and all at once he saw a big buck coming right towards him. Ted raised up and the deer saw him and of course to see a thing like Ted Russell is enough to scare the stuff out of even a deer. So Ted says that deer jumped so high when he saw Ted that when Ted shot, the deer was fifteen feet in the air when the gun went bang. The deer fell and Ted let go a second shot, spoiling some of the steak in the rear hams (guess it is hams). Anyway, Ted says that deer's neck was so twisted when he shot that one bullet made four holes in the skin. It was so big that it dressed 96 pounds. Then there's that story about Corporal Jack Russell going down there with a 22 target to kill deer. The Dad told the soldier a 22 target was no good and it wasn't. But finally the "sharpshooter" got his dad's gun and went out and got two deer. The other men will pardon the Herald for not telling on them too. But they should talk a little more.

Now about the deer steak: Those fellows really ate like Lions. But after about 40 minutes their conscience began to hurt and they got up and carried about four large platters into the other part of the dining room for a kind of Thanksgiving treat. Yes sir, Mr. Carter, thank you.

Hamlin More Than Met Her War Chest Quota Of $1,750.00

The neighboring towns around Hamlin are puzzling as to how easy it was for Hamlin to raise her quota in the United War Chest Funds of $1,750, all in one day and go beyond that to $2,009.00.

A lot of folks here in Hamlin are wondering how it all went off as quietly as a snow flake falling.

The original set-up for the county placed Tate May as chairman of the drive, and Tate in turn dumped it over to Mayor Joe Culbertson and he seems to have flopped it over to the Lions Club and a few others, any way fixing it so that many days before anybody knew about what was happening, the whole quota was assured by about 20 fellows putting it in the bag.

This is a new wrinkle, and gets the money every time. It may not be the best way but it did the trick, and now the secret is out.

Hamlin was beginning to feel sorry for some of the other towns last week end, when they lacked more than $1,000 meeting their quota. Wonder if the War Bond drive could be put over that way?

THIS WEEK

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

THAT

OPEN LETTER:

To Congressman Sam Russell
To Senator Tom Connally:

We want you to know that many people of this part of Texas feel that our country is disgraced by the conduct of General George S. Patton some months ago, while he was visiting a hospital in Sicily. We feel that of all places where a general should show extra special kindness and sympathy towards soldiers it is in a hospital. If his heart is so hard and bloody as to mistreat a helpless soldier, he should not be allowed to hold any commission of trust in the armies of the United States. This episode, if reports are correct, shows that the general is disqualified from several angles to lead our armies anywhere. Perhaps he too was suffering from some kind of shock. He may have made apologies to all of the offended, but he has inflicted an injury on the men in service, and in minds and hearts of all fathers and mothers till nothing but dismissal can atone for his outrage.

Furthermore, if it is true, we feel for what the little nurse did in defense of a helpless, mind-sick soldier, she should be given a suitable award, and on the other hand, the doctor who left his patient at the mercy of a deranged general, he too should be discharged from service.

We ask Congress to defend our men from arrogant and tyrannical brutality. This thing cannot go whitewashed. Most Texans call upon you to defend the right.

From

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend

The Herald carries for Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Townsend, their deep appreciation and thanks to the American Legion for the part they had and what others did in the memorial program for their late soldier son, Corporal Donnell T. Townsend, last Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

This bereaved family is truly and humbly grateful for every expression of love and sympathy in this their greatest sacrifice.

Disturbing Statements

We might start this editorial off with asking "What Do They Mean?" This applies to radio talks and speeches by statesmen. And we mean by "statesmen" that the talkers are in some part of the government.

What do they mean?

Let's take Congressman Summers of Dallas. He made a speech last week, maybe Massachusetts, and being a good Democrat from the great state of Texas, he was quoted and quoted, thusly:

"We have built up in Washington, a governmental colossus utterly beyond human comprehension or democratic control, regardless of which party or group of officials is in power" and further he says "democracy must be restored." Now Mr. Summers is reported to be a powerful man, a congressman in Washington for many and many years. Who did the "building up" what caused such a "colossus" and who "destroyed democracy?" Mr. Summers is leaving the impression on the Republicans up in New England and his Democrats in Texas that the greatest war any nation ever carried on can be operated without building up an expanded government, and that a great government can keep operating on a "frozen" size of departments. Let's remember always in war times most everything is expanded and why not be careful to keep from letting out some cheap political stuff to the criticising element of the nation?

Then there's the wise old owl, John Nance Garner, who is now 75, and he says "Take the hobbles off the people, give them (the people) a chance to think and act for themselves." He goes a little further and says "In other words return to the American way of life and the people will solve the problems." Wonder what all this means? Who has hobbled who? The only people hobbled in this nation are the 8 to 10 million soldiers. They are hobbled good and strong, and depend on the rest of us for everything they eat and wear and fight with. Mr. Garner spent most of his influential life in Washington. Maybe he knows where he tried to hobble a few more people.

Here is another puzzling thing: The Soldier Vote: Both parties are having a monkey fit about the soldier vote. The vote, that's the idea. The vote. The poor old soldier boy would be puzzled as to what to vote for and for whom even if he were back home and read and listened to all the hooey that's making the rounds, much less having a smattering idea of what's best to vote for while he is in the mud and slush of death 10,000 miles from America. But the fellows around Washington want the boys to know they would appreciate their vote. You bet.

This country has not got the time to fight a war. The biggest bunch is bidding for advantage to get something for themselves. Not many people are working and thinking as if they were on the battle front. Maybe we can't do it, because we can't really know and feel the need.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Richardson, came up from Dayton, Texas, last Friday and went on to Levelland to visit their brother, Jim Richardson, who had been in a hospital at Lubbock. Jim and his wife came back to Hamlin for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. Jack Harris and daughter Priscilla June of Breckenridge returned to their home Sunday after visiting one week with her sister, Mrs. R. J. McIntyre.

R. G. Goss of Vernon has taken a position in the Cotton Department for the Mid-West Cooperative Oil Mill. His family will move to Hamlin when living quarters can be found, and perhaps not till several months later.

Hamlin, Texas
Dead Mr. Pope:

I am settled again after traveling 24 days from Texas to Canol, N. W. T. Canada. I spent part of the summer in Fort Worth with my family. I was in Hamlin just before I left to come up here but didn't get to see you. I really enjoyed my stay in Texas and some times when it is snowing so hard and so cold I wish I were back in Cow Town. Where I am this year is quite a different place to where I was last year. I am eleven hundred miles farther north in fact I am about as far north as any one goes except Eskimos. Camp Canol is at the mouth of the Great Bear Lake where the McKinney River empties in, across the river is Norman Wells, which is an Indian trading post. There is also a big oil field around Norman. This project I am on is to run a pipe line from Norman to White Horse where there is a refinery. The river between Canol and Norman is 5 1-2 miles wide. We can cross to Norman by trucks on the ice. It has been below zero every day I have been here except today, it warmed up to 5 above.

I traveled from Fort St. John B. C. to Canol by a transport plane. It was 9 hundred miles and I was in the air 4 hours and 45 minutes, all in day time, so I really saw some country.

I have been taking some pictures. Am sending you one of a black bear. There are lots of bear, reindeer and fox up here.

The sun rises this time of year here at 10:05 A. M. and sets at 3:55 P. M. It comes up in the south and sets in the south. I don't understand it but there are a lot of things I don't understand up here. On June 22 and 23 the sun never sets. We never know what day of the week or the day of the month is any more.

As it is almost bed time I'll close for this time and say I would enjoy hearing from you.

As ever,

Victory Garden Is Ration Book's Friend

Opportunity to Save 2,772 Ration Points

A 25 by 50-foot garden plot plus 25 tomato plants, a couple of pounds of seed and someone to plant, harvest and can them, equals 2,772 ration points saved in the course of a year.

So let ration points, as well as nutritive values and the family budget, provide the yardstick by which you measure returns from your 1943 garden. That's the advice given by Prof. F. G. Helyar of Rutgers university, chairman of the state Victory garden and food conservation committee.

And remember, if you have not yet started your Victory garden, it's not too late. But you must get busy now.

The plan on which he has figured the 2,772-ration point return, based on present point values, includes two rows of tomato plants, each row 50 feet long; two rows of snap beans,

Crop Corps Insignia

planted from a pound of seed; two rows of carrots, planted with an ounce of seed; and a similar planting of beets and of lima beans, for which an ounce and a pound, respectively, of seed will be needed. Professor Helyar estimates that on the average the tomatoes will yield three bushels of fruit, or 54 quart jars and 1,481 ration points. The other crops, measured on the same basis, will produce as follows: snap beans—one bushel, 16 quarts, 358 points; carrots—one bushel, 18 quarts, 403 points; beets—one bushel, 16 quarts, 256 points; and lima beans—one bushel (in the pod), nine quarts, 274 points.

Measured from this standpoint, it is obvious that the garden will not only help keep an average-size family fed in accordance with good standards of nutrition for the year, but it will save them from spending their ration points for foods that will probably be drastically needed by families in metropolitan and city areas who are unable to garden, Professor Helyar adds.

Commercial Uses for Our Citrus Fruits

Back in 1920, grapefruit was an expensive delicacy. Have you heard of the woman who boiled one for hours and could not make it tender? Today, five times as much grapefruit is grown and it is well known by rich and poor.

Our grapefruit is grown mostly in Florida, Texas, Arizona and California. California and Florida produce 97 per cent of our oranges and virtually all lemons are grown in California. These citrus fruits are used almost entirely for food, but there is still a great waste from canning and marmalade making and a need to find non-food uses for culls.

Orange and lemon oil is produced commercially in California. Grapefruit oil is a very new product valued in the textile industry to fix turkey red dye. The peel and pulp of citrus fruits may also become an important source of pectin which is sold commercially to add to other fruit juices in making jelly. It may also be possible to recover some of the valuable vitamins and turn them to commercial uses.

Citric acids are being produced for food flavors and uses in medicine. Novel food products are appearing, such as citrus powder and citrus butter. Canning of grapefruit hearts and juice has been on the increase, about 62 per cent coming from Florida canneries and 36 per cent from Texas.

Until the present European war, the United States was on the way to developing a fine export trade in fresh oranges and canned grapefruit.

Rural Briefs

Cabbage, endive and other plants that are partly bleached when eaten contain less vitamin C than the really green vegetables.

To assure full milk pails next winter, many farmers are planning a thorough feed production and storage campaign to get next winter's stock of feedstuffs into their barns by October 15.

Thanksgiving in AMERICA

We, Too, Have Seen Much and Fought Hard and Are Thankful

Beautiful South Pacific Islands, steaming jungles, European cities, hot sandy deserts, and towns and plains of Asia have been washed in the blood of conquering and defending armies alike. Have we Americans had to search through the smoldering ruins of what was once our home?

American towns have never been subject to such barbarism, and for this we are grateful. We are grateful, yes . . . but we must show our gratitude concretely. It is not enough to give thanks for our blessings in wartime. We must back up the war effort actively. We must buy War Bonds and work harder and further our national unity in every way. That is the only way to show our gratitude.

Time of Cutting Hay Determines Food Value

Early-Cut Hay Has More Protein Content

High quality hay is more important than ever with the acute feed shortage farmers are facing this year. The time of hay cutting is one of the most important decisions a dairyman will have to make concerning his hay crop this year. Research in Missouri has shown that timothy, for example, has 135 pounds of total protein per acre if cut when coming into bloom, whereas if cut when the seed is in the dough, it contains only 92 pounds of protein per acre. The same general tendency in favor of early cutting is as true of alfalfa and the clovers as it is with timothy.

Besides having higher feeding value, early-cut hay is more palatable, so cows eat more of it. Furthermore, since early-cut hay has a higher proportion of leaves to stems than late cut hay, there is less waste in feeding. Cows often refuse the stemmy stuff they are sometimes offered. An additional advantage of early cutting is that the sod produces a more vigorous renewal growth which can be quite useful in late summer.

Dairy and crop specialists believe that the hay should be cut in the stages indicated as follows: Timothy, after heading but before blooming; red and alsike clover, half to three-fourths full bloom; alfalfa, first cutting, quarter bloom; alfalfa, last cutting, before September 15 in northern states.

Dead Animals

Even the horse struck by lightning near the pasture fence or the cattle that die from disease have some commercial value. Rather than bury them on the farm in shallow trenches or washed-out gullies covered with brush, the farmer can get rid of this nuisance by merely telephoning the rendering plant to send a truck. Usually there is little or nothing paid, unless the animal's hide has value.

Once in the rendering plant, the dead animal is converted into a dozen commercial products that have found a market within the last 20 years. The hide may be salable either for leather or the hair or wool that can be scraped from it. Flesh is cooked to expel fats and greases which go into soap, axle grease and other inedible tallow products.

The problem of disposing of dead animals is not confined to the farm. In a city the size of Columbus, Ohio, (300,000) about 2,800 dead animals must be disposed of yearly, including horses, cows, dogs and cats. Care of this refuse is handled by the city rendering plant which disposes of garbage and sells all possible by-products in order to cover the cost of the service. After the water and grease is pressed out, the solid part is dried, ground and added to selected garbage and sold for feed for livestock.

Choose Breeders Early

Selection of 1944 poultry breeding stock should be started early. Chickens for broiling, frying and roasting are of better quality and can be produced cheaper when they come from good breeding stock, and some characteristics show up only when birds are young.

Males of the heavy breeds should show tail feathers at 12 days of age and complete back feathering at eight weeks to be worthy of being retained as breeders.

Where our Food is going...

Your Government says that thirteen per cent of our total supply goes to our armed forces at home and abroad, ten per cent to our Allies and liberated peoples, and two per cent to our territories (Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, etc.).

The rest of the supply—the bulk—three-fourths of the total—stays home to feed the civilian population. This three-fourths, however, is about equivalent to the average amount of food produced in this country in the years 1935 to 1939. Not all of this supply is made up of "favorite" foods—but it is the type of food to give the citizen a healthful, balanced diet.

One-fifth of all Food produced is wasted

There's Plenty YOU can do to reduce this WASTE

Like all other managers' jobs, your job as general manager of the household is complicated by wartime conditions. The biggest part of your job is making the tremendous amount of food our farmers are producing go just as far as it will. So plan carefully your meals and shopping. Shop the first of the week and early in the day. Avoid careless handling of fresh foods, as this is a big cause of food waste. Department of Agriculture estimates that one fresh tomato out of every seven has to be discarded because of bruising by customers. If one-third of what is wasted can be saved it will add about eight per cent to our food supply.

1. Know the seven basic food groups and plan your meals from them.
2. Plan by the week so that two or more protein foods will not be included in the same meal.
3. Plan a vegetable plate or a nourishing soup as the main dish for several meals during the week. Use left-overs in soups and stews.
4. Use fresh foods in season. Cook most vegetables in a small amount of water; using only about one-half inch in a covered utensil.
5. Cut down your grocer's waste. Don't pinch fruits. Don't handle vegetables.
6. Serve smaller portions with the provision for seconds. Establish a rule for eating everything served.
7. Don't buy rationed foods for the sake of using stamps. Don't give away or trade stamps.

Lone Star's Home Economics Radio Programs, Tuesday, 8:45 A.M., WFAA, and Friday, 9:00 A.M., KRLD, offer specific information on how to buy, cook and process food for wartime meals.

VICTORY'S SONS

Out from "Shangri La" flew General Doolittle with a force of bombers.

He led them to the island of the Rising Sun.

Reaching the shores of that island they dropped so low they flew under high tension wires. They were too low for anti-aircraft guns. Then they fanned out.

Some of the bombers went to Tokyo, some to Yokohama, some to industrial and "prohibited" zones near those cities.

Like good sowers, their bombs fell on fertile grounds. Debris flew skyward, oil storage tanks were fired, munition and plane plants flattened.

They left behind them destruction. Battered and amazed were officers, soldiers and natives.

As quickly as they came, they departed.

A few weeks later ace aviator Jimmy Doolittle received the Congressional Medal of Honor for "conspicuous leadership" from the president at a White House ceremony.

Life of Mower
Can Be ProlongedIt Is Wise to Repair
And Oil Machine Early

Mower breakdowns during hay harvesting are expensive in labor, time and farm crop losses, and new mowers are increasingly hard to get. But old mowers will give many years of good service if given proper care.

A frequent cause of poor work is misalignment of the cutter bar. With the mower tongue end raised 30 inches, stretch a cord tightly across the top center of the Pitman bar past the end of the cutter bar. The outer end of the cutter bar, as measured at the knife rivets, should be ahead of the string a fourth of an inch for every foot length of cutter bar. This setting is called the "lead" and is necessary to give alignment of the cutting parts in heavy grass. Some mowers provide an eccentric bushing adjustment at the cutter bar hinge pin; in others the worn hinge pins will have to be replaced.

Make sure that the knife sections register in the center of the guards at the extremes of the Pitman bar stroke. Failure in this causes pulled grass and heavy cutting. Incorrect Pitman length, hinge pin wear or improper lead are the cause for poor register.

The back of the knife is held by wearing plates while the knife clips reach over the bar and hold the front edge of the knife down against the guard or shear plates. When the wear plates or clips become worn, the knife does not make close contact, thus causing heavy draft and uneven cutting. Wear plates can be moved ahead to take up the wear by loosening the guard bolts and driving the plate forward. Knife clips can be driven down with a hammer. Do this with the knife pulled back from under the clip and use the knife end as a measure of clip tightness. With all clips properly adjusted, the knife should slide back and forth by hand but there should be no play. Severe wear of the knife head ball joint will cause broken knives and shearing of the knife head rivets. A new knife head is usually necessary for correction.

Worn out guard or shear plates can be replaced without removing the guards. A guard anvil will be found extremely useful here. Discarding guards because of worn shear plates is a waste of precious metal.

For adjustments peculiar to a particular mower, see the mower instruction book.

Vaccinating Calves

For Bang's Disease

"Many farmers have heard of the good results obtained from calfhood vaccination for Bang's disease, and immediately want to apply it to the older animals in their herds as well," states the report from the American Foundation for Animal Health. "This presents an entirely different problem. Sometimes older vaccinated animals do not 'clear up,' and later on when herds are tested it becomes difficult to distinguish them from natural reactors. The question of which animals should be vaccinated and when, are matters to be determined by a veterinarian. 'Calfhood vaccination has been a great aid in clearing up Bang's disease in individual herds, but our job today is to eradicate it completely. That is why we must pursue the cow-testing program on an area basis until all major farming sections have been cleared. More than 400 counties have already been certified, and this number will be greatly increased before the war is over. When Bang's disease has been finally wiped out it will mean many millions in additional profits to American farmers."

Scorn Overweight Motor Oil this Winter of War

"The Lighter the oil the better"... Discover how very light, by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Have you ever been a new papa? Have you ever had to enlarge the hole in the nipple of baby's bottle? The hot milk, just about as fluid as anything, barely comes through. Far "skinnier" than small holes in nipples are many of the oil spaces in your car's engine. That's still true after it is middle-aged or beyond. Any oil...any oil...has a hard enough time coming through and spreading all around. Overweight oil—easily thickened by cold—is far worse. The lightest oil your engine can use this season is rightest. And you can know that light oil will more than stand the gaff when it includes the ability to give your engine internal OIL-PLATING.

Because a Winter change to Conoco Nth motor oil adds OIL-PLATING to engine parts, you can go your car's limit on lightness. Any good plating is a protective surface, and so is OIL-PLATING—attached all over your engine's insides, as if strongly "magnetized" there by a synthetic that's part of patented Conoco Nth. Now every moving part enveloped in its close-fastened OIL-PLATING must slide upon the rupture-resistant fluid film of Conoco Nth. Safety is multiplied!—though your economical Conoco Nth is so light that your battery, too, has every chance to outlive the Winter, and the War. OIL-PLATE at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's—today. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.

Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.

But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Miss Dorothea Wilemon Becomes Bride of Lt. Landon V. Davis Jr.

In an informal double ring ceremony, Miss Dorothea Faye Wilemon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wilemon of Hamlin, became the bride of Lt. Landon V. Davis Jr., Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17, in the home of the Rev. James E. Harrell, pastor of the Methodist church, with Rev. Harrell officiating.

The bride and groom were attended by Pvt. and Mrs. Hilton Fields, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Lieut. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Landon V. Davis of Hamlin. He is a graduate of the Sulphur Springs High school, and after coming to Hamlin, was employed with the Schoemann Dry Goods Co. In Feb., 1941, he volunteered for the Air Corps and began his Pre-flight training in August of the same year at Santa Ana, Calif. He also took training at Ryan Field and Marana Field in Arizona, and on June 22, 1943, he received his commission as a 2nd Lieutenant at Luke Field, Arizona. He is now stationed at Kingman, Arizona, and will return there the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Davis will remain in Hamlin for a short time, before joining her husband in Kingman, Arizona.

Ramie Fiber

As soon as someone invents a practical machine to tear out ramie fiber ready for spinning, this country will have a new industry. Ramie can be grown especially well in the Gulf states and large yields have been obtained in Louisiana and Florida.

The plant has been grown in China for 3,000 years and was used extensively for cloth before cotton was introduced. In China it is cut, crushed and cleaned by hand, and one man's work only produces from two to six pounds of fiber in a day. To be practical here, the industry would have to be completely mechanized.

Ramie was first brought to the United States about 1855. Experiments in growing this plant have been conducted by private individuals, state agricultural experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture in many states. The most extensive plantings of 40 to 50 acres have been carried on by men who were developing decorticating machines.

There are several plants spinning ramie in this country, and the domestic fiber will find a ready market as soon as machines are developed to extricate the fiber. It has great strength when wet and will not mildew. The fiber is particularly attractive and is so soft and lustrous that as much as 20 per cent ramie may be mixed with silk without changing the appearance.

Cutting Pulpwood

In cutting pulpwood, farmers should know what types of trees to take out. It is also important to know how to cut the timber stand properly. The key to a productive forest is to maintain a good growing stock. A good stand of trees should be left.

All trees which are to be taken out should be carefully marked, and especially so where the job of harvesting is to be turned over to others.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

Miss Herbie Faye Johnston was recently voted the Junior favorite in Hardin-Simmons University. If personality and general good looks count, this young lady from Hamlin merits the honor. Congratulations Miss Herbie Faye.

Cows Should Be Fed On Basis of Milk Given

Feed Cannot Be Spared For Low Producers

Nobody knows yet how the crop yields of corn, wheat, barley, soybeans, cottonseed and linseed will compare with past averages, E. J. Perry of Rutgers U. points out. And feed dealers cannot get deliveries very far in advance or in so large amounts as formerly. This makes it especially important to waste no concentrates in feeding, but to feed every cow strictly according to her milk yield in order to meet 1943 goals.

If there's no time to mark down daily milk yields, Perry urges dairymen to do it every week or 10 days and readjust grain feeding accordingly. On pasture, the rate of concentrate feeding will depend upon how good the pasture is. Early grass up to July usually has more digestible protein than the later, so much less grain is then required than in the winter months.

Pasture is the most natural feed for cows and with plenty of it they will "shine" at the pail, and be in condition to start a good job in the barn this coming fall. It is not uncommon for a cow only medium in size to eat 100 pounds of pasture daily. Neglect of pastures and of cows on pasture is one of the biggest problems facing the dairymen today.

For cows giving 35 to 40 pounds of milk a day, a feed ratio of one pound of grain a day for every seven pounds of milk is about right.

To help herd owners provide conditions favorable to high yields during the pasture season, Perry offers the following reminders:

Fertilize permanent pastures and provide special summer supplementary pastures according to the recommendations of the county agricultural agent. Practice rotation grazing from one plot to another.

Avoid too early and too close grazing. For regular pasture, four to six inches is a good height.

Adapt the kind and amount of grain to the kind and amount of pasture. Early pasture is high in digestible protein and the grain mixture used can have 3 or 4 per cent less protein than is usually needed for winter feeding.

For the higher testing breeds, a good trial starting rate for a cow which gives 30 pounds of milk a day is one pound of grain for five pounds of milk, and for the lower testing breeds, those giving 35 to 40 pounds a day, a good rate is one pound of grain for every seven pounds of milk, Perry says. Using and watching the scales carefully will tell the story and yield dividends for the owner and the country.

In hot weather, the herd will be better off in the barn during the latter half of the afternoon, especially if the barn is cool and the flies are partially controlled.

POT SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

BY GEO. DARDEN

Lieut. Ivan Mustain stopped over in McCauley the other night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McHone. Lieut. Mustain is at present stationed at Harlingen.

Chief Petty Officer Marvin Davison and wife from the Great Lakes is home on a fifteen days leave and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davison.

Sorry to inform our gin customers that we are forced to close down the Texas Cotton Growers Gin due to the fact that we have run out of water and if no rain within the next few days, we will have to call it quits until next season. The water played out last Friday and as this water business comes under the head of the Lord's business, there is little we humble human beings can do about it. Any way, thanks for your past business and hope to be with you next season. Yours, George.

A good lady in Hamlin the other day told us that she had been reading and enjoying our column for a number of years, but that was the first time to meet the Pot Shots editor. Well, folks, we will be riding our Pinto horse in the big Thanksgiving Day parade in Hamlin on Thanksgiving Day and hope to see all the folks.

E. L. Rector hands us another dollar for a year's renewal to the Herald. Thanks, Mr. Rector.

Home for Thanksgiving will be all the children of Mr. and Mrs. W.

F. Davison. Mrs. Martin and children, Miss Jewel Davison, who is in the WAVES and Petty Officer Marvin Davison, from the Great Lakes are already here. It's the first time in eight years that all the Davison children have been at home at the same time and we can imagine the thrill that comes to Ma and Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miers and children of Lamesa were visitors of their parents and other relatives here over the week end.

Due to the fact that the Herald comes out on Wednesday of this week, we have to send in the Pot-Shots on Monday and in a case like that, we will not have the time to gather much news. Excuse, please.

The social at the Baptist church last Friday night was not only a get-together for the folks of the church, but a surprise shower for Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dick. It was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Dick received a nice winter coat and the preacher got a handful of dough and we do mean good old American dollars. Games were played and pie, cake, punch and coffee were served to about a hundred friends of the Dicks. Also a good program was included.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Powers left Sunday for Avoca to take up their work as Supt. and Principal of the Avoca school. Thus far McCauley doesn't have a Supt., and also short one other teacher.

Bennie Ray Jones was home over the week end from McMurry College.

Miss Alene Akins, formerly of McCauley, became the bride of Cpl. Wm. H. Jones of Klien, Montana in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lee in Fort Worth on Friday, Nov. 12th. Rev. Prince, pastor of the Riverside Baptist church, read the ring ceremony. Nola Akins, a sister was maid of honor, wearing a dress-makers suit of deep purple. Her corsage was of roses. Mr. Lee was the best man and little Charlie Lee was ring bearer. The bride wore slate blue with matching accessories. Her going away suit was sage brown with brown accessories. After a short wedding trip the bride will be at home at 800 May street in Fort Worth and the groom will return to his station at Camp Bowie, Texas. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Akins, who have recently moved from McCauley to Monahans. We send our congratulations to the new bride and groom. We happen to know that Cpl. Jones is a lucky guy, as Miss Alene was one of the finest girls ever reared in this community and we wish for them many, many years of happy married life.

Is the Jew gobbling up America? Well, that will be our subject in next week's O'Gram if we don't change our mind. We might as well express our opinion and be frank on what will come to pass in the future because the little show-down is coming sooner or later.

COMMENT No. 1—As little as we may think about it, the race question in the United States is going to be a major issue in the very near future. People who advocate race equality in the United States are playing with fire as far as the South is concerned. Defense workers as well as members of the armed forces, are frankly stating their views and by no means are the Southern people willing to be placed in the class with the Northern Negro, and there is another tune, never will Texans stand for daughters to be in company with the Negro man as is happening in some parts of the United States, and we refer to Chicago and other large Northern cities. If you doubt this to be true then ask some soldier boy who has been stationed in Chicago, also ask some defense worker who has been employed in California. Visit the big night clubs and see beautiful white women on the arm of a buck Negro. We may as well face facts and those who advocate such race equality are doomed for disappointment down in the Lone Star State. Rotten politics in such cities as Chicago have placed the Negro in a position where he thinks he is better than the white man and the big shots who forever tell the Negro that he is entitled to mix and mingle with the Anglo-Saxon race and should be permitted to marry into the white race is pouring gasoline on the fire and we do mean hell-fire. Big daily Chicago Negro newspapers are leading the Negro race to believe that the white race will be working for the colored race after the war. Down in the South we respect the Negro in his place but out of his place, that's

One of the most impressive services, perhaps ever held in Hamlin, was at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, when the American Legion Post of Hamlin conducted memorial services for Corporal Donnell T. Townsend, who lost his life in the Sicily campaign on July 10, 1943.

A crowd of friends from every community around Hamlin, and in Hamlin, packed the house to capacity. The entire program was likely the first of its nature ever held here. The choir was represented by every church, almost, in Hamlin and the various communities about Hamlin. The audience was the most general representative that could be expected.

Legion Chairman W. L. Fletcher, Jr., acted as master of ceremonies, and paid a beautiful tribute to the fallen soldier paratrooper. He introduced the Rev. G. D. Reid of Abilene, who had held a pastorate for about twelve years in Roby, and a minister who had known intimately the Townsend family. His talk was full and complete in every detail, paying a wonderful tribute to the young hero, and all men who have gone out to fight for their country. It seemed that he left out nothing that a real true American minister should have said. Rev. Reid is pastor of a church in Abilene, and four of his good singers came over with him and rendered a very impressive song.

Suitable decorations and flags were present, the soldier's picture, his Purple Heart and the citation, and other things bearing mute testimony to the young man whose body lies in a distant land and now close to where others are paying the supreme sacrifice.

SINGING AT DOVIE

A general singing program will be held at the Dovie church Sunday afternoon. The usual good quartets and special numbers will be there. Come to Dovie Sunday afternoon.

A Deer Dinner Given To The Lions Club

It seems that the Lions Club is furnishing all of the deer hunters from Hamlin this season. And it seemed that the Lions Club had too much deer steak at their luncheon at the Morgan Hotel Tuesday of this week. It seems that the Lions are hooking up some kind of scheme to save points by going out and knocking down pointed bucks.

Any way, Ye Editor owes Lion President Haskell Carter a public expression of thanks for the invitation to eat lunch with his club Tuesday. Yes sir, we enjoyed the fellowship and especially that fine tender deer steak and creamed gravy so excellently prepared by the Morgan Hotel... then there was another feature. Bob Eastus of Stamford, Executive for the Boy Scouts, was present and by cards and appropriate words, showed some of the values of having a Boy Scout organization in a community. He is trying to revive Scouting in Hamlin.

Back to the deer dinner. The Herald told of the fellows from Hamlin going down in the Hill Country on a deer hunt last week. There were five of them and they killed eight deer. Three got two each and two men landed one each. From this bunch some tall tales are told, and as usual, the fellow who talks and laughs the most gets the widest field of advertising... meaning Ted Russell. Ted tells it as a fact that he was out looking for a shot and all at once he saw a big buck coming right towards him. Ted raised up and the deer saw him and of course to see a thing like Ted Russell is enough to scare the stuff out of even a deer. So Ted says that deer jumped so high when he saw Ted that when Ted shot, the deer was fifteen feet in the air when the gun went bang. The deer fell and Ted let go a second shot, spoiling some of the steak in the rear hams (guess it is hams). Anyway, Ted says that deer's neck was so twisted when he shot that one bullet made four holes in the skin. It was so big that it dressed 96 pounds. Then there's that story about Corporal Jack Russell going down there with a 22 target to kill deer. The Dad told the soldier a 22 target was no good and it wasn't. But finally the "sharpshooter" got his dad's gun and went out and got two deer. The other men will pardon the Herald for not telling on them too. But they should talk a little more.

Now about the deer steak: Those fellows really ate like Lions. But after about 40 minutes their conscience began to hurt and they got up and carried about four large platters into the other part of the dining room for a kind of Thanksgiving treat. Yes sir, Mr. Carter, thank you.

Hamlin More Than Met Her War Chest Quota Of $1,750.00

The neighboring towns around Hamlin are puzzling as to how easy it was for Hamlin to raise her quota in the United War Chest Funds of $1,750, all in one day and go beyond that to $2,009.00.

A lot of money here in Hamlin are not it was all went off as to quietly as a snow flake falling.

The original set-up for the county placed Tate May as chairman of the drive, and Tate in turn dumped it over to Mayor Joe Culbertson and he seems to have flopped it over to the Lions Club and a few others, any way fixing it so that many days before anybody knew about what was happening, the whole quota was assured by about 20 fellows putting it in the bag.

This is a new wrinkle, and gets the money every time. It may not be the best way but it did the trick, and now the secret is out.

Hamlin was beginning to feel sorry for some of the other towns last week end, when they lacked more than $1,000 meeting their quota. Wonder if the War Bond drive could be put over that way?

THIS WEEK

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

THAT

OPEN LETTER:

To Congressman Sam Russell
To Senator Tom Connally:

We want you to know that many people of this part of Texas feel that our country is disgraced by the conduct of General George S. Patton some months ago, while he was visiting a hospital in Sicily. We feel that of all places where a general should show extra special kindness and sympathy towards soldiers it is in a hospital. If his heart is so hard and bloody as to mistreat a helpless soldier, he should not be allowed to hold any commission of trust in the armies of the United States. This episode, if reports are correct, shows that the general is disqualified from several angles to lead our armies anywhere. Perhaps he too was suffering from some kind of shock. He may have made apologies to all of the offended, but he has inflicted an injury on the men in service, and in minds and hearts of all fathers and mothers till nothing but dismissal can atone for his outrage.

Furthermore, if it is true, we feel for what the little nurse did in defense of a helpless, mind-sick soldier, she should be given a suitable award, and on the other hand, the doctor who left his patient at the mercy of a deranged general, he too should be discharged from service.

We ask Congress to defend our men from arrogant and tyrannical brutality. This thing cannot go whitewashed. Most Texans call upon you to defend the right.

From Mr. and Mrs. Townsend

The Herald carries for Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Townsend, their deep appreciation and thanks to the American Legion for the part they had and what others did in the memorial program for their late soldier son, Corporal Donnell T. Townsend, last Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

This bereaved family is truly and humbly grateful for every expression of love and sympathy in this their greatest sacrifice.

Disturbing Statements

We might start this editorial off with asking "What Do They Mean?" This applies to radio talks and speeches by statesmen. And we mean by "statesmen" that the talkers are in some part of the government.

What do they mean? Let's take Congressman Sumners of Dallas. He made a speech last week, maybe Massachusetts, and being a good Democrat from the great state of Texas, he was quoted and quoted, thusly:

"We have built up in Washington, a governmental colossus utterly beyond human comprehension or democratic control, regardless of which party or group of officials is in power" and further he says "democracy must be restored." Now Mr. Sumners is reported to be a powerful man, a congressman in Washington for many and many years. Who did the "building up" what caused such a "colossus" and who "destroyed democracy?" Mr. Sumners is leaving the impression on the Republicans up in New England and his Democrats in Texas that the greatest war any nation ever carried on can be operated without building up an expanded government, and that a great government can keep operating on a "frozen" size of departments. Let's remember always in war times most everything is expanded and why not be careful to keep from letting out some cheap political stuff to the criticising element of the nation?

Then there's the wise old owl, John Nance Garner, who is now 75, and he says "Take the hobbles off the people, give them (the people) a chance to think and act for themselves." He goes a little further and says "In other words return to the American way of life and the people will solve the problems." Wonder what all this means? Who has hobbled who? The only people hobbled in this nation are the 8 to 10 million soldiers. They are hobbled good and strong, and depend on the rest of us for everything they eat and wear and fight with. Mr. Garner spent most of his influential life in Washington. Maybe he knows where he tried to hobble a few more people.

Here is another puzzling thing: The Soldier Vote: Both parties are having a monkey fit about the soldier vote. The vote, that's the idea. The vote. The poor old soldier boy would be puzzled as to what to vote for and for whom even if he were back home and read and listened to all the hooey that's making the rounds, much less having a smattering idea of what's best to vote for while he is in the mud and slush of death 10,000 miles from America. But the fellows around Washington want the boys to know they would appreciate their vote. You bet.

This country has not got the time to fight a war. The biggest bunch is bidding for advantage to get something for themselves. Not many people are working and thinking as if they were on the battle front. Maybe we can't do it, because we can't really know and feel the need.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Richardson, came up from Dayton, Texas, last Friday and went on to Levelland to visit their brother, Jim Richardson, who had been in a hospital at Lubbock. Jim and his wife came back to Hamlin for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. Jack Harris and daughter Priscilla June of Breckenridge returned to their home Sunday after visiting one week with her sister, Mrs. R. J. McIntyre.

R. G. Goss of Vernon has taken a position in the Cotton Department for the Mid-West Cooperative Oil Mill. His family will move to Hamlin when living quarters can be found, and perhaps not till several months later.

If your subscription to the Herald has expired it will stop unless renewed.

Hamlin, Texas
Dead Mr. Pope:

I am settled again after traveling 24 days from Texas to Canol, N. W. T. Canada. I spent part of the summer in Fort Worth with my family. I was in Hamlin just before I left to come up here but didn't get to see you. I really enjoyed my stay in Texas and some times when it is snowing so hard and so cold I wish I were back in Cow Town. Where I am this year is quite a different place to where I was last year. I am eleven hundred miles farther north in fact I am about as far north as any one goes except Eskimos. Camp Canol is at the mouth of the Great Bear Lake where the McKinney River empties in, across the river is Norman Wells, which is an Indian trading post. There is also a big oil field around Norman. This project I am on is to run a pipe line from Norman to White Horse where there is a refinery. The river between Canol and Norman is 5 1-2 miles wide. We can cross to Norman by trucks on the ice. It has been below zero every day I have been here except today, it warmed up to 5 above.

I traveled from Fort St. John B. C. to Canol by a transport plane. It was 9 hundred miles and I was in the air 4 hours and 45 minutes, all in day time, so I really saw some country.

I have been taking some pictures. Am sending you one of a black bear. There are lots of bear, reindeer and fox up here.

The sun rises this time of year here at 10:05 A. M. and sets at 3:55 P. M. It comes up in the south and sets in the south. I don't understand it but there are a lot of things I don't understand up here. On June 22 and 23 the sun never sets. We never know what day of the week or the day of the month is any more.

As it is almost bed time I'll close for this time and say I would enjoy hearing from you.

Victory Garden Is Ration Book's Friend

Opportunity to Save 2,772 Ration Points

A 25 by 50-foot garden plot plus 25 tomato plants, a couple of pounds of seed and someone to plant, harvest and can them, equals 2,772 ration points saved in the course of a year.

So let ration points, as well as nutritive values and the family budget, provide the yardstick by which you measure returns from your 1943 garden. That's the advice given by Prof. F. G. Helyar of Rutgers University, chairman of the state Victory garden and food conservation committee.

And remember, if you have not yet started your Victory garden, it's not too late. But you must get busy now.

The plan on which he has figured the 2,772-ration point return, based on present point values, includes two rows of tomato plants, each row 50 feet long; two rows of snap beans,

Crop Corps Insignia

This is the identifying insignia for the U. S. Crop Corps. The sheaf of wheat symbolizes food production and the toothed edge of the C symbolizes food processing.

planted from a pound of seed; two rows of carrots, planted with an ounce of seed; and a similar planting of beets and of lima beans, for which an ounce and a pound, respectively, of seed will be needed. Professor Helyar estimates that on the average the tomatoes will yield three bushels of fruit, or 54 quart jars and 1,481 ration points. The other crops, measured on the same basis, will produce as follows: snap beans—one bushel, 16 quarts, 358 points; carrots—one bushel, 18 quarts, 403 points; beets—one bushel, 16 quarts, 256 points; and lima beans—one bushel (in the pod), nine quarts, 274 points.

Measured from this standpoint, it is obvious that the garden will not only help keep an average-size family fed in accordance with good standards of nutrition for the year, but it will save them from spending their ration points for foods that will probably be drastically needed by families in metropolitan and city areas who are unable to garden, Professor Helyar adds.

Commercial Uses for Our Citrus Fruits

Back in 1920, grapefruit was an expensive delicacy. Have you heard of the woman who boiled one for hours and could not make it tender? Today, five times as much grapefruit is grown and it is well known by rich and poor.

Our grapefruit is grown mostly in Florida, Texas, Arizona and California. California and Florida produce 97 per cent of our oranges and virtually all lemons are grown in California. These citrus fruits are used almost entirely for food, but there is still a great waste from canning and marmalade making and a need to find non-food uses for culls.

Orange and lemon oil is produced commercially in California. Grapefruit oil is a very new product valued in the textile industry to fix turkey red dye. The peel and pulp of citrus fruits may also become an important source of pectin which is sold commercially to add to other fruit juices in making jelly. It may also be possible to recover some of the valuable vitamins and turn them to commercial uses.

Citric acids are being produced for food flavors and uses in medicine. Novel food products are appearing, such as citrus powder and citrus butter. Canning of grapefruit hearts and juice has been on the increase, about 62 per cent coming from Florida canneries and 36 per cent from Texas.

Until the present European war, the United States was on the way to developing a fine export trade in fresh oranges and canned grapefruit.

Wounded Soldier Back Home From Pacific

Last week Flight Officer William B. Teague and his wife arrived from the Walter Reed Hospital at Washington City. Officer Teague was wounded in New Guinea Jan. 31, 1942, and has been in various hospitals till his dismissal from the Washington hospital. He left his left foot and leg up nearly to the knee in New Guinea, and is now using a cane and an artificial limb. He will receive his final papers soon from the Air Forces. Teague is a son of Mrs. W. B. Teague, who lives six miles east of Hamlin. Officer Teague was awarded the Purple Heart for his wound.

Mrs. O. D. Hunter reports that her son, Sgt. Marvin M. Hudson, who has been in the army over seven years, is showing some improvements in the Army Hospital in Little Rock, Ark. He has been in a serious condition and has been discharged from service but is retained in the government hospital.

Corporal H. V. Brown came in Sunday night from Camp Claiborne, La., on a 12 days furlough.

SEAMAN CROW MARRIED

Seaman Wilson Crow, Baker First Class, came in last Saturday from California with a wife. He was married to Miss Rosilee Harrington, November 14, in Fall Brook, Calif. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Harrington of Portland, Ark. Wilson and his wife could not spend all off his leave in Hamlin with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crow. Good luck, sailor. Don't blame you a bit, and congratulations.

Corpl. Alfred Hastings came over from Camp Berkeley to spend the week end with his wife, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hastings.

Mrs. Frank Williams returned to her home in Cross Plains Monday, after a visit here with her daughters, Mrs. Tom Vaughan and Mrs. Gene Robinson. While here Mrs. Williams took treatment in the Stamford hospital for an injury received while gathering pecans when a dead limb fell from a tree and struck her on the head.

Otha Ray Martin, seaman on a cruiser in the Pacific, arrived over a week ago to enjoy fifteen days' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Martin. Otha has the rank of Water Tender, 2-C. He had not been home in three years, and as he says, "I have been running around quite a bit." While at home Sailor Martin was joined by his sister, Mrs. Pete Miller who came down from Denver, Colo., to join the family. She had been with her soldier husband who is ill in the Fitzsimmons General Hospital.

Mrs. Brooks Browning and little son David Brooks Jr., and daughter Beverly Kay, of Bronte, were up Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. G. H. Joiner.

U. S. Army Air Forces

Miami Beach, Fla.
November 19, 1943

Dear Sir:

As many boys from the Hamlin district have done, I would like to correspond with the Hamlin Herald. I have planned to do so ever since I went into the service, which was Sept. 27, of this year. But as you know, one entering any branch of the service must and does serve his country first.

I might say that I am proud to be one of the many fellows in uniform. We have a big job to do and with the men and equipment we have, we will make short comings of this horrible situation.

Sir, as you know, I am in the Air Forces and I consider it one of the best branch for a young soldier could be in. We get excellent training in fact, we get the best. I have finished 10 days of my basic and have several more to go. Even tho the going is tough at times, we all enjoy working together.

I would like to put in a word for those Pied Pipers. They are doing an excellent job with their team this time, even though they haven't won all of their games. Remember this, Pied Pipers, it isn't always the winning team that makes the best players. So win or lose, I'm pulling for you, all the time. Hamlin has the best, as far as sportsmanship goes, and I am sure it will remain so.

Florida is certainly a beautiful place and I think that I couldn't have been sent to a better place, other than Texas. You know the old saying, "They can take me out of Texas but they can't take Texas out of me." Well, sir, I really mean that.

If you don't mind, I would like to use this space to say hello to all of my friends from in and around Hamlin, who are in the different branches of the service. I would like to hear from some of you fellows too. The very best wishes and especially to those overseas, may your burdens be light and we are all looking forward to your returning to the States. Who knows, the rest of us may join you over there one of these days. My best regards to you, sir. Sincerely yours,

Pvt. D. C. Reynolds

It has been quite a while since the Herald had anything about our dentist, Dr. Joe W. McCrary. Well, Lieutenant McCrary might not like to see publicity of himself, but here is telling you that this young fellow is now located at a Station Hospital Indian Town Gap, Military Reservation, Pennsylvania. He has been shifting about so much that he has missed the Herald lately.

The latest form of mailing from the soldiers came Saturday from Corpl. J. W. Apperson, from somewhere in Italy. He used a mimeographed form of V-Mail paper, just folded in regular letter size, so that the address of the soldier, the address of the one to receive it, and the Censor's stamp, showed in a narrow strip. Apperson was formerly bookkeeper for the Tuxedo gin and lived farther east of Tuxedo.

Up in Camp Abbot, Oregon, are two twin fellows, Dean and Gene Witt, and a letter from Dean says they have just made the rifle range and Dean made Expert Rifleman, and Gene qualified as a Sharpshooter. That means some medals.

Pfc. Ernest Jenkins of the Bryan Air Field was at home from Friday till Wednesday while on his way from the Amarillo Field back to his camp.

Sgt. Elton Cheshier had a 10 days delay here last week enroute to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he is assigned to a combat crew. He visited with his wife and son, who are at present in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Cheshier of Hamlin. He also visited with his brother and family at Rotan.

Pvt. James T. Townsend had a lot of happiness as well as a sad mission as he arrived at home from the Bryan Air Field on Thursday, Nov. 18th. It was on the 19th that he became a soldier father, for his wife gave birth to a fine son, Jimmy Don at the Rotan hospital. Pvt. Town, send was present also for the memorial services at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, given in memory of his brother, Corporal Donnell Townsend, who was killed in Sicily July 10th. James should be promoted now that he is an important dad.

Thanksgiving in AMERICA

We, Too, Have Seen Much and Fought Hard and Are Thankful

Beautiful South Pacific Islands, steaming jungles, European cities, hot sandy deserts, and towns and plains of Asia have been washed in the blood of conquering and defending armies alike. Have we Americans had to search through the smouldering ruins of what was once our home?

American towns have never been subject to such barbarism,

and for this we are grateful. We are grateful, yes . . . but we must show our gratitude concretely. It is not enough to give thanks for our blessings in wartime. We must back up the war effort actively. We must buy War Bonds and work harder and further our national unity in every way. That is the only way to show our gratitude.

Time of Cutting Hay Determines Food Value

Early-Cut Hay Has More Protein Content

High quality hay is more important than ever with the acute feed shortage farmers are facing this year. The time of hay cutting is one of the most important decisions a dairyman will have to make concerning his hay crop this year. Research in Missouri has shown that timothy, for example, has 135 pounds of total protein per acre if cut when coming into bloom, whereas if cut when the seed is in the dough, it contains only 92 pounds of protein per acre. The same general tendency in favor of early cutting is as true of alfalfa and the clovers as it is with timothy.

Besides having higher feeding value, early-cut hay is more palatable, so cows eat more of it. Furthermore, since early-cut hay has a higher proportion of leaves to stems than late cut hay, there is less waste in feeding. Cows often refuse the stony stuff they are sometimes offered. An additional advantage of early cutting is that the sod produces a more vigorous renewal growth which can be quite useful in late summer.

Dairy and crop specialists believe that the hay should be cut in the stages indicated as follows: Timothy, after heading but before blooming; red and alsike clover, half to three-fourths full bloom; alfalfa, first cutting, quarter bloom; alfalfa, last cutting, before September 15 in northern states.

Dead Animals

Even the horse struck by lightning near the pasture fence or the cattle that die from disease have some commercial value. Rather than bury them on the farm in shallow trenches or washed-out gullies covered with brush, the farmer can get rid of this nuisance by merely telephoning the rendering plant to send a truck. Usually there is little or nothing paid, unless the animal's hide has value.

Once in the rendering plant, the dead animal is converted into a dozen commercial products that have found a market within the last 20 years. The hide may be salable either for leather or the hair or wool that can be scraped from it. Flesh is cooked to expel fats and greases which go into soap, axle grease and other inedible tallow products.

The problem of disposing of dead animals is not confined to the farm. In a city the size of Columbus, Ohio, (300,000) about 2,800 dead animals must be disposed of yearly, including horses, cows, dogs and cats. Care of this refuse is handled by the city rendering plant which disposes of garbage and sells all possible by-products in order to cover the cost of the service. After the water and grease is pressed out, the solid part is dried, ground and added to selected garbage and sold for feed for livestock.

Choose Breeders Early

Selection of 1944 poultry breeding stock should be started early. Chickens for broiling, frying and roasting are of better quality and can be produced cheaper when they come from good breeding stock, and some characteristics show up only when birds are young.

Males of the heavy breeds should show tall feathers at 12 days of age and complete back feathering at eight weeks to be worthy of being retained as breeders.

Where our Food is going...

Your Government says that thirteen per cent of our total supply goes to our armed forces at home and abroad, ten per cent to our Allies and liberated peoples, and two per cent to our territories (Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, etc.).

The rest of the supply—the bulk—three-fourths of the total—stays home to feed the civilian population. This three-fourths, however, is about equivalent to the average amount of food produced in this country in the years 1935 to 1939. Not all of this supply is made up of "favorite" foods—but it is the type of food to give the citizen a healthful, balanced diet.

One-fifth of all Food produced is wasted

There's Plenty YOU can do to reduce this WASTE

Like all other managers' jobs, your job as general manager of the household is complicated by wartime conditions. The biggest part of your job is making the tremendous amount of food our farmers are producing go just as far as it will. So plan carefully your meals and shopping. Shop the first of the week and early in the day. Avoid careless handling of fresh foods, as this is a big cause of food waste. Department of Agriculture estimates that one fresh tomato out of every seven has to be discarded because of bruising by customers. If one-third of what is wasted can be saved it will add about eight per cent to our food supply.

1. Know the seven basic food groups and plan your meals from them.
2. Plan by the week so that two or more protein foods will not be included in the same meal.
3. Plan a vegetable plate or a nourishing soup as the main dish for several meals during the week. Use left-overs in soups and stews.
4. Use fresh foods in season. Cook most vegetables in a small amount of water; using only about one-half inch in a covered utensil.
5. Cut down your grocer's waste. Don't pinch fruits. Don't handle vegetables.
6. Serve smaller portions with the provision for seconds. Establish a rule for eating everything served.
7. Don't buy rationed foods for the sake of using stamps. Don't give away or trade stamps.

LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

VICTORY'S SONS

Out from "Shangri La" flew General Doolittle with a force of bombers.

He led them to the island of the Rising Sun. Reaching the shores of that island they dropped so low they flew under high tension wires. They were too low for anti-aircraft guns. Then they fanned out.

Some of the bombers went to Tokyo, some to Yokohama, some to industrial and "prohibited" zones near those cities.

Like good sowers, their bombs fell on fertile grounds. Debris flew skyward, oil storage tanks were fired, munition and plane plants flattened. They left behind them destruction. Bewildered and amazed were officers, soldiers and natives.

As quickly as they came, they departed.

A few weeks later ace aviator Jimmy Doolittle received the Congressional Medal of Honor for "conspicuous leadership" from the president at a White House ceremony.

Life of Mower Can Be Prolonged

It Is Wise to Repair And Oil Machine Early

Mower breakdowns during hay harvesting are expensive in labor, time and farm crop losses, and new mowers are increasingly hard to get. But old mowers will give many years of good service if given proper care.

A frequent cause of poor work is misalignment of the cutter bar. With the mower tongue end raised 30 inches, stretch a cord tightly across the top center of the Pitman bar past the end of the cutter bar. The outer end of the cutter bar, as measured at the knife rivets, should be ahead of the string a fourth of an inch for every foot length of cutter bar. This setting is called the "lead" and is necessary to give alignment of the cutting parts in heavy grass. Some mowers provide an eccentric bushing adjustment at the cutter bar hinge pin; in others the worn hinge pins will have to be replaced.

Make sure that the knife sections register in the center of the guards at the extremes of the Pitman bar stroke. Failure in this causes pulled grass and heavy cutting. Incorrect Pitman length, hinge pin wear or improper lead are the cause for poor register.

The back of the knife is held by wearing plates while the knife clips reach over the bar and hold the front edge of the knife down against the guard or shear plates. When the wear plates or clips become worn, the knife does not make close contact, thus causing heavy draft and uneven cutting. Wear plates can be moved ahead to take up the wear by loosening the guard bolts and driving the plate forward. Knife clips can be driven down with a hammer. Do this with the knife pulled back from under the clip and use the knife end as a measure of clip tightness. With all clips properly adjusted, the knife should slide back and forth by hand but there should be no play. Severe wear of the knife head ball joint will cause broken knives and shearing of the knife head rivets. A new knife head is usually necessary for correction.

Worn out guard or shear plates can be replaced without removing the guards. A guard anvil will be found extremely useful here. Discarding guards because of worn shear plates is a waste of precious metal.

For adjustments peculiar to a particular mower, see the mower instruction book.

Vaccinating Calves

For Bang's Disease

"Many farmers have heard of the good results obtained from calfhood vaccination for Bang's disease, and immediately want to apply it to the older animals in their herds as well," states the report from the American Foundation for Animal Health. "This presents an entirely different problem. Sometimes older vaccinated animals do not 'clear up,' and later on when herds are tested it becomes difficult to distinguish them from natural reactors. The question of which animals should be vaccinated and when, are matters to be determined by a veterinarian. "Calfhood vaccination has been a great aid in clearing up Bang's disease in individual herds, but our job today is to eradicate it completely. That is why we must pursue the cow-testing program on an area basis until all major farming sections have been cleared. More than 400 counties have already been certified, and this number will be greatly increased before the war is over. When Bang's disease has been finally wiped out it will mean many millions in additional profits to American farmers."

Scorn Overweight Motor Oil this Winter of War

"The Lighter the oil the better"... Discover how very light, by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Have you ever been a new papa? Have you ever had to enlarge the hole in the nipple of baby's bottle? The hot milk, just about as fluid as anything, barely comes through. Far "skinnier" than small holes in nipples are many of the oil spaces in your car's engine. That's still true after it is middle-aged or beyond. Any oil...any oil...has a hard enough time coming through and spreading all around. Overweight oil—easily thickened by cold—is far worse. The lightest oil your engine can use this season is rightest. And you can know that light oil will more than stand the gaff when it includes the ability to give your engine internal OIL-PLATING.

Because a Winter change to Conoco Nth motor oil adds OIL-PLATING to engine parts, you can go your car's limit on lightness. Any good plating is a protective surface, and so is OIL-PLATING—attached all over your engine's insides, as if strongly "magnetized" there by a synthetic that's part of patented Conoco Nth. Now every moving part enveloped in its close-fastened OIL-PLATING must slide upon the rupture-resistant fluid film of Conoco Nth. Safety is multiplied!—though your economical Conoco Nth is so light that your battery, too, has every chance to outlive the Winter, and the War. OIL-PLATE at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's—today. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.

Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.

But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Miss Dorothea Wilemon Becomes Bride of Lt. Landon V. Davis Jr.

In an informal double ring ceremony, Miss Dorothea Faye Wilemon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wilemon of Hamlin, became the bride of Lieut. Landon V. Davis Jr., Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17, in the home of the Rev. James E. Harrell, pastor of the Methodist church, with Rev. Harrell officiating.

The bride and groom were attended by Pvt. and Mrs. Hilton Fields, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Lieut. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Landon V. Davis of Hamlin. He is a graduate of the Sulphur Springs High school, and after coming to Hamlin, was employed with the Schoemann Dry Goods Co. In Feb., 1941, he volunteered for the Air Corps and began his Pre-flight training in August of the same year at Santa Ana, Calif. He also took training at Ryan Field and Marana Field in Arizona, and on June 22, 1943, he received his commission as a 2nd Lieutenant at Luke Field, Arizona. He is now stationed at Kingman, Arizona, and will return there the latter part of this month. Mrs. Davis will remain in Hamlin for a short time, before joining her husband in Kingman, Arizona.

Ramie Fiber

As soon as someone invents a practical machine to tear out ramie fiber ready for spinning, this country will have a new industry. Ramie can be grown especially well in the Gulf states and large yields have been obtained in Louisiana and Florida.

The plant has been grown in China for 3,000 years and was used extensively for cloth before cotton was introduced. In China it is cut, crushed and cleaned by hand, and one man's work only produces from two to six pounds of fiber in a day. To be practical here, the industry would have to be completely mechanized.

Ramie was first brought to the United States about 1855. Experiments in growing this plant have been conducted by private individuals, state agricultural experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture in many states. The most extensive plantings of 40 to 50 acres have been carried on by men who were developing decorticating machines.

There are several plants spinning ramie in this country, and the domestic fiber will find a ready market as soon as machines are developed to extricate the fiber. It has great strength when wet and will not mildew. The fiber is particularly attractive and is so soft and lustrous that as much as 20 per cent ramie may be mixed with silk without changing the appearance.

Cutting Pulpwood

In cutting pulpwood, farmers should know what types of trees to take out. It is also important to know how to cut the timber stand properly. The key to a productive forest is to maintain a good growing stock. A good stand of trees should be left.

All trees which are to be taken out should be carefully marked, and especially so where the job of harvesting is to be turned over to others.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

Miss Herbie Faye Johnston was recently voted the Junior favorite in Hardin-Simmons University. If personality and general good looks count, this young lady from Hamlin merits the honor. Congratulations Miss Herbie Faye.

Cows Should Be Fed On Basis of Milk Given

Feed Cannot Be Spared For Low Producers

Nobody knows yet how the crop yields of corn, wheat, barley, soybeans, cottonseed and linseed will compare with past averages. E. J. Perry of Rutgers U. points out. And feed dealers cannot get deliveries very far in advance or in so large amounts as formerly. This makes it especially important to waste no concentrates in feeding, but to feed every cow strictly according to her milk yield in order to meet 1943 goals.

If there's no time to mark down daily milk yields, Perry urges dairymen to do it every week or 10 days and readjust grain feeding accordingly.

On pasture, the rate of concentrate feeding will depend upon how good the pasture is. Early grass up to July usually has more digestible protein than the later, so much less grain is then required than in the winter months.

Pasture is the most natural feed for cows and with plenty of it they will "shine" at the pail, and be in condition to start a good job in the barn this coming fall. It is not uncommon for a cow only medium in size to eat 100 pounds of pasture daily. Neglect of pastures and of cows on pasture is one of the biggest problems facing the dairymen today.

For cows giving 35 to 40 pounds of milk a day, a feed ratio of one pound of grain a day for every seven pounds of milk is about right.

To help herd owners provide conditions favorable to high yields during the pasture season, Perry offers the following reminders:

Fertilize permanent pastures and provide special summer supplementary pastures according to the recommendations of the county agricultural agent.

Practice rotation grazing from one plot to another.

Avoid too early and too close grazing. For regular pasture, four to six inches is a good height.

Adapt the kind and amount of grain to the kind and amount of pasture. Early pasture is high in digestible protein and the grain mixture used can have 3 or 4 per cent less protein than is usually needed for winter feeding.

For the higher testing breeds, a good trial starting rate for a cow which gives 30 pounds of milk a day is one pound of grain for five pounds of milk, and those giving 35 to 40 pounds a day, a good rate is one pound of grain for every seven pounds of milk, Perry says. Using and watching the scales carefully will tell the story and yield dividends for the owner and the country.

In hot weather, the herd will be better off in the barn during the latter half of the afternoon, especially if the barn is cool and the flies are partially controlled.

POT SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

—BY GEO. DARDEN—

Lieut. Ivan Mustain stopped over in McCauley the other night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McHone. Lieut. Mustain is at present stationed at Harlingen.

Chief Petty Officer Marvin Davison and wife from the Great Lakes is home on a fifteen days leave and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davison.

Sorry to inform our gin customers that we are forced to close down the Texas Cotton Growers Gin due to the fact that we have run out of water and if no rain within the next few days, we will have to call it quits until next season. The water played out last Friday and as this water business comes under the head of the Lord's business, there is little we humble human beings can do about it. Any way, thanks for your past business and hope to be with you next season. Yours, George.

A good lady in Hamlin the other day told us that she had been reading and enjoying our column for a number of years, but that was the first time to meet the Pot Shots editor. Well, folks, we will be riding our Pinto horse in the big Thanksgiving Day parade in Hamlin on Thanksgiving Day and hope to see all the folks.

E. L. Rector hands us another dollar for a year's renewal to the Herald. Thanks, Mr. Rector.

Home for Thanksgiving will be all the children of Mr. and Mrs. W.

F. Davison. Mrs. Martin and children, Miss Jewel Davison, who is in the WAVES and Petty Officer Marvin Davison, from the Great Lakes are already here. It's the first time in eight years that all the Davison children have been at home at the same time and we can imagine the thrill that comes to Ma and Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miers and children of Lamesa were visitors of their parents and other relatives here over the week end.

Due to the fact that the Herald comes out on Wednesday of this week, we have to send in the Pot-Shots on Monday and in a case like that, we will not have the time to gather much news. Excuse, please.

The social at the Baptist church last Friday night was not only a get-together for the folks of the church, but a surprise shower for Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dick. It was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Dick received a nice winter coat and the preacher got a handful of dough and we do mean good old American dollars. Games were played and pie, cake, punch and coffee were served to about a hundred friends of the Dicks. Also a good program was included.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Powers left Sunday for Avoca to take up their work as Supt. and Principal of the Avoca school. Thus far McCauley doesn't have a Supt., and also short one other teacher.

Bennie Ray Jones was home over the week end from McMurry College.

Miss Alene Akins, formerly of McCauley, became the bride of Cpl. Wm. H. Jones of Klien, Montana in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lee in Fort Worth on Friday, Nov. 12th. Rev. Prince, pastor of the Riverside Baptist church, read the ring ceremony. Nola Akins, a sister was maid of honor, wearing a dress-makers suit of deep purple. Her corsage was of roses. Mr. Lee was the best man and little Charlie Lee was ring bearer. The bride wore slate blue with matching accessories. Her going away suit was sage brown with brown accessories. After a short wedding trip the bride will be at home at 800 May street in Fort Worth and the groom will return to his station at Camp Bowie, Texas. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Akins, who have recently moved from McCauley to Monahans. We send our congratulations to the new bride and groom. We happen to know that Cpl. Jones is a lucky guy, as Miss Alene was one of the finest girls ever reared in this community and we wish for them many, many years of happy married life.

Is the Jew gobbling up America? Well, that will be our subject in next week's O'Gram if we don't change our mind. We might as well express our opinion and be frank on what will come to pass in the future because the little show-down is coming sooner or later.

COMMENT No. 1—As little as we may think about it, the race question in the United States is going to be a major issue in the very near future. People who advocate race equality in the United States are playing with fire as far as the South is concerned. Defense workers as well as members of the armed forces, are frankly stating their views and by no means are the Southern people willing to be placed in the class with the Northern Negro, and there is another tune, never will Texans stand for daughters to be in company with the Negro man as is happening in some parts of the United States, and we refer to Chicago and other large Northern cities. If you doubt this to be true then ask some soldier boy who has been stationed in Chicago, also ask some defense worker who has been employed in California. Visit the big night clubs and see beautiful white women on the arm of a buck Negro. We may as well face facts and those who advocate such race equality are doomed for disappointment down in the Lone Star State. Rotten politics in such cities as Chicago have placed the Negro in a position where he thinks he is better than the white man and the big shots who forever tell the Negro that he is entitled to mix and mingle with the Anglo-Saxon race and should be permitted to marry into the white race is pouring gasoline on the fire and we do mean hell-fire. Big daily Chicago Negro newspapers are leading the Negro race to believe that the white race will be working for the colored race after the war. Down in the South we respect the Negro in his place but out of his place, that's another story. Politics or no politics, the Jim Crow law still stands in Texas and we who were born and reared South of the Mason-Dixon Line will never stoop so low as to permit our children to marry or even keep company with a race of another color. Yes, we believe in freedom for all races and the world is big enough for all races but all races must keep on their side of the fence as far as the Southern man is concerned. Some newspapers deal around the race question, but it's a stark reality and as one soldier puts it, the war may not be over after Hitler and the Japs are whipped.
